

CommunityMashup - Usage

Basics

Using the CommunityMashup can be separated in two steps:

- 1) You either identify an existing instance of the mashup to use and/or set up a new instance by selecting and configuring source and interface components
- 2) You access this instance via its interface components from an application

In the sub pages of this page we describe these two steps in more details:

- setting up a CommunityMashup instance - see CommunityMashup - Configuration
- using a CommunityMashup instance in an application - see CommunityMashup - Applications
